Telluride, CO (August 28, 2008) - Telluride Film Festival (August 29-September 1, 2008), presented by the National Film Preserve and DELL, announces its program for the 35th annual Festival. Featuring diverse programming from around the globe, including a surge of international films, TFF once again sets the stage for some of the most highly anticipated films of the year.

TFF opens its 35th year with over twenty-five new feature films plus special artist tributes and salutes, guest director programs by Slavoj Zizek, a new animation section, classics and restorations, shorts, student prints, seminars and conversations. In keeping with the Festival's tradition, additional "sneak previews" are expected to surprise attendees over the weekend.

"Despite concerns that this year couldn't meet the high expectations of world cinema in 2007, it became clear in Berlin and Cannes that filmmakers are determined to keep reaching new heights," commented Co-Director Gary Meyer. "The new films submitted to us this summer, unseen anywhere, also continued the trend of quality and unique stories."

Guest Director Slavoj Zizek, world renowned philosopher and theorist, presents six programs including: NIGHTMARE ALLEY (d. Edmund Golding, U.S., 1947); ON DANGEROUS GROUND (d. Telluride Film Festival focuses a special spotlight on the rising Romanian writer, director and composer, Nae Caranfil, who will be on hand to introduce his 2001 film, PHILANTHROPY (Romania), as well as his new film, THE REST IS SILENCE (Romania, 2007), which will be this year's Romanian submission for the Best Foreign Film Academy Award.

"This year's program brings together a wonderful list of both new and established talent," said co-director Tom Luddy. "One of the things that makes TFF so special is that the directors for all the new films will be in attendance to present their films, often with performers and writers of their works. Friendships and new professional relationships are likely to blossom.”

Along with featuring some of today’s best contemporary filmmakers, TFF pays tribute to the classic films and filmmakers of yesterday including: newly restored prints of LOLA MONTÈS (d. Max Ophüls, France, 1955) and PIROSMANI (d. Giorgi Shengelaya, Georgia, 1972); one of Josef von Sternberg’s first masterworks, THE LAST COMMAND (U.S., 1928), featuring the world premiere of a new score written and performed by the Alloy Orchestra; THE ITALIAN STRAW HAT (d. René Clair, France, 1928) presented by Pordenone and enhanced with Maud Nelissen’s newly composed score; and a second presentation by Pordenone, Laughing ‘Til It Hurts, featuring four slapstick comedy shorts including THE COOK (d. Roscoe Arbuckle, U.S., 1918), SHOULD MEN WALK HOME? (d. Leo McCarey, U.S., 1927), THERE IT IS (U.S., 1928) and PASS THE GRAVY (d. Fred L. Guiol, U.S., 1928).

TFF’s Special Medallion award, which honors the passionate heroes of cinema including writers, historians and film lovers, goes to Richard Schickel. The first part of Schickel’s five-hour YOU MUST REMEMBER THIS (U.S., 2008), his latest film, shows as part of the Medallion presentation.
